President's Precept

Greetings, Fellow Members! This is the Captain speaking!

For many of us, it's membership renewal time. I hope you will renew, and I urge you to do so. In making your decision, you may well ask, "What have I gotten from my membership the last year?" It's a good question and deserves a good answer.

During this first year, the work of the Association has been primarily organizational. This gargantuan task, invisible to the majority of the membership, has been ably performed by our Executive Assistant, Gilbert K. Alford, Jr. Our hats off to him!

The organizational work had to be done before any of the purposes of the Association could be addressed in any depth. Your founding membership has helped to establish a viable family association that is off the ground and running, a functioning organization built on solid foundations. And that is no small potatoes (to mix a few metaphors). Now we can get on with the purposes of the Alford American Family Association.

Actually, the organizational work has already served to advance some of the purposes of our Association: cementing our ties of fellowship and kinship, compiling acceptable family records, and pooling our resources for professional genealogical research. While our first venture in hiring a professional researcher of Virginia Alford's has not proven very productive, we have gained some valuable experience. [See "Virginia Research Project, pg. 6.]

One important project we've undertaken has been the design and development of a family badge, emblem, or logo, if you please. This time-consuming process has in turn held up the adoption of official family stationery and membership cards incorporating the family emblem. Some of you may have wondered why you had not received your membership cards. Have patience and bear with us. Our heraldic designer has submitted a design for the family

What's in a Name?

More than one person has asked why the Association name was structured as it is. Some want it more restrictive, others less restrictive. Some wanted to know why "Alford" was first rather than "Association." Even the abbreviation has been a matter of concern.

Alford was selected as the first word because the surname should be in the most prominent part of the title, and that is the beginning. This also assures that the Association will be found in its proper place in indexes.

American was selected to emphasize that the Association concentrates on Alford's of this continent, or even this hemisphere if appropriate.

While it was possible to use "Alford Family Association of America," many would have wondered what to do with the word "of" in abbreviations.

It is possible to change the name, but it becomes more difficult as time passes. The name is registered twice with various government agencies, is in use on our bank account, and is about to be printed on our stationery. In addition, it has been mentioned in at least one published article by a statewide paper.

If a change is to be made, it should happen as soon as possible. It will require official action with the Missouri Secretary of State, will involve considerable time and expense, and will create some confusion.

If members have strong feelings about the Association name, they should communicate immediately with the President, Lodwick Alford. If the majority of members has no objections to the name, it will remain Alford American Family Association.

Treasurer's Report

Corporate Status

The Alford American Family Association was finally certified as a not-for-profit corporation in the state of Missouri on December 18, 1987. The original Board of Directors and incorporators were:

Captain Lodwick H. Alford, USN Ret., Sea Island, Georgia
Julius Mosby Alford, McComb, Mississippi
Gilbert K. Alford, Jr., Florissant, Missouri

Action is in process to complete the application for IRS tax exemption. This must be completed within 15 months of the date of incorporation.

Bank Account

A bank account has been established in the name of the Association in the Centerre Bank in St. Louis, Missouri. When it was originally established in March, 1987, the Association had not yet been approved as a non-profit corporation and therefore had to pay a bank service charge for a commercial account. Now, as an approved non-profit corporation, the expense of maintaining the account will be minimal.

To the extent practicable, the Treasurer will sign checks as bills are referred to him by other officers or the Executive Assistant. At the end of each year complete financial records will be sent to the President and Treasurer. Financial statements will be provided to all members.

Budget

The Association is required by the IRS to prepare a budget for the next two years. The budget for 1988 was predicated on the following assumptions:

1. All 1987 members will renew in 1988.
2. Expansion efforts will enlist an equal number (42) in 1988 as in 1987.
3. Research in Virginia will continue and work will begin in another area, possibly North Carolina. [See related articles on pg. 6]
4. Approximately 3 newsletters for officers and 3 for members will be published, each containing about 6 sheets.
5. Correspondence will be adequate to justify printing of letterhead and envelopes.
6. Postage rates would increase, as announced, in March, 1988.
7. All officers will be sufficiently active to require some reimbursement for expenses.

As the year progresses, the budget will be reviewed, and if expenditures are running too far ahead of receipts, some spending adjustments will be necessary. It is expected that the budget will be a living document in the year of execution and will be adjusted to reflect the capabilities and needs of the Association. Close accounting of receipts and expenses in 1988 is essential as a basis for future budgeting.

1987 Financial Statement

A detailed Financial Statement is available from the Treasurer if any member requests one. Following is an abbreviated version of the statement which has been approved for submission to the IRS:

Revenue

Contributions	$1203.00
Dues	756.00
Total Revenue	$1959.00

Expenses

Postage, post office box	$111.28
Stationery & printing	140.02
Virginia research	200.00
Family seal & ribbon	59.37
Misc.	66.45
Total Expenses	$577.12

Net Worth $1381.88

Annual Meeting

The Association Articles of Incorporation require at least one annual meeting, which will be open to all members.

Meeting attendance and quorums are not addressed in the Articles, so it is possible to schedule a meeting and have very little or no attendance. Elections are required at the annual meeting; when one is planned and it is expected that all members will not be present, then provision must be made for written absentee balloting.

President Lodwick Alford has appointed a committee to plan the 1988 meeting: Ambassador Weston Adams is the chairman; Gil Alford and Pam Thompson are members. Georgia is being considered as a location since the President, Vice-President, and Secretary live in or very near Georgia, and since the Treasurer and Executive Assistant could get there with a minimum of difficulty. As plans progress, other members (not officers) may be asked to join the committee.

Gil Alford and the AAFA

The relationship between the Association and the operation which Gil Alford conducts has raised some questions and caused some confusion.

At present they are two separate and distinct operations. It is coincidental that Gil Alford, with his ongoing Alford work, is also the state agent and executive assistant for the Association.

Two separate files are maintained, two separate bank accounts have been established, and mail is addressed to different locations. When correspondence or checks are received which do not recognize this distinction but contain payments to both Gil and the Association, it complicates booking and filing for both Gil Alford and the Association. It is therefore important that AAFA members keep this distinction in mind when corresponding with Gil.

With very short notice, the files and material belonging to the Association could be packed and shipped to another person who might assume some or all of the duties being performed by Gil Alford.

Gil intends to continue his newsletter, About Alford's, and other publications for several years. In these publications Gil will note that he is affiliated with AAFA, but that the publications are not the product of it. Some books will be reviewed and approved by the Association and labeled as being sponsored by it.

There should not be any conflict between what is published in Gil Alford's About Alford's and the Association newsletter. Gil's publication addresses all Alford's of all times. The Association coverage will concern the Alford's more closely related to those who are members of the Association. Much of AAFA Action will deal with the work of the Association and not just genealogical data.

Secretary's Summary

Dues and Fees

When the Association was planned, the registration fee of $10 and the annual dues of $8 were set arbitrarily. As the new year began, the situation was reviewed and it was decided to retain the $8 dues, limiting any needed increases to not more than $1 per year.

Dropping the $10 registration fee was considered, but it has been decided to retain it until more is known about the Association's financial operations. Our only source of revenue is through dues, registration fees, and donations. Until a reasonable determination is made on annual expenditures, the registration fees will be kept to generate some revenue.

As AAFA gains more experience with budget and financial management, the Secretary and Treasurer will conduct an annual review to determine if a recommendation should be made to change the fees and/or dues. The inclusion or absence of a statement concerning fees and dues in the bylaws will determine who has the authority to set the fees and dues.

Founding Membership

It was originally announced that founding memberships would be offered only in 1987 and to those who had participated in Gil Alford's program or those who were connected with one of the several Alford family reunion groups.

Since the Association was so slow and late getting organized in 1987, it has been recommended that founding memberships be extended through 1988. Any Alford descendant making application during 1988 will be considered one of the founding members. Note that an extension of founding memberships beyond 1987 borders on violation of the Articles of Incorporation, Article IV. However, if the group officers are agreeable, then it is doubtful that the State of Missouri is likely to be concerned.

During 1987 the Association registered 42 members or member families. It is hoped that this number can be duplicated in 1988, doubling the membership—assuming that all those who registered in 1987 will renew in 1988.

Expansion Efforts — 1988

The potential for membership in AAFA is 8000 Alford families whose names and addresses are available. Unfortunately, about 25% of these addresses are inaccurate.

The cost of using this list to reach potential members is high, especially considering the 25% rate of inaccuracy. Of the remaining 75%, a response generally comes from less than 10%. However, some of the Association's best members have enrolled after being contacted by this method.

Gil Alford has recommended that in 1988 we contact the Alfords in Mississippi, where he and some others have been doing work in preparation for the publication of About Alfords of Mississippi. This will be a Gil Alford product, but it will be reviewed and sanctioned by the Association. Gil is willing to split the postage costs of this expansion effort with the Association as long as he is given equal space to solicit input for his Mississippi book in the expansion letter. [See "Expansion Projects," pg. 7.]

Gil also recommended that in 1988, the last year in which founding membership will be available, AAFA send an invitation to all Alford families residing in Missouri. It seems appropriate that those living in the state in which the Association was founded and is registered be given an opportunity to become founding members. Again he will share postage costs if joint communications are sent out. [See "Expansion Projects," pg. 7.]

One further method of informing potential members of our Association is being used. When Alford reunion groups send invitations to their family members, the Association can offer to pay 50% of the postage costs if an invitation to join AAFA is included with the reunion invitation. This targets groups highly likely to be interested in membership, and the addresses are usually good! So far two reunion groups have participated in this offer, and a third is considering it. All officers and members are encouraged to take advantage of this offer in their own reunion groups.

Research Projects

The purposes of the Association as set out in the Articles of Incorporation suggest considerable research effort. While the Genealogist-Historian, Nancy Dietrich, will be the focal point for this effort, she will require not only much help from the other officers, but from the membership as well.

Listed below are the purposes which have some research implication:

- COMPILING ACCEPTABLE FAMILY RECORDS OF ALFORD DESCENDANTS AND ANCESTORS.
- UNIFYING ALL GENEALOGICAL, HISTORICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL RESEARCH ATTENDANT TO THE COMPILING OF ACCEPTABLE FAMILY RECORDS.
- POOLING RESOURCES AND EFFORTS OF THE MEMBERS OF THE FAMILIES SO THAT THE HISTORY AND GENEALOGY OF ALFORD ANCESTORS MAY BE PASSED ON TO ALL DESCENDANTS OF ALFORDS.
- PUBLISHING GENEALOGICAL AND/OR HISTORICAL PERIODICALS AND BOOKS WHICH PROVIDE INFORMATION ON ALFORDS AND ALFORD FAMILIES PROVIDING, WHERE POSSIBLE, INFORMATION ON THEIR CONTRIBUTION TO MANKIND.

Simply stated, the Association will try to unify national efforts on Alford research and data collection, compile the data, and then pool resources and effort to preserve and pass on the information. Even simpler: work together to collect, preserve, and publish Alford information.

All research work should give consideration to the informational needs of Association members as it pertains to their specific family history.

If the Association can develop and execute a plan to find the data, get it together, and get it out so folks can use it, the purposes of AAFA Articles will be well served. Alford information is going to come to the Association either as a result of a deliberate effort or as unplanned submissions. No planning can be done for the latter, but much consideration should be given to the Association's deliberate gathering of information.

There are at least three ways to deliberately acquire Alford information:

1. Have members search primary and/or secondary sources, based on guidance provided by AAFA.
2. Pay professional researchers for a specific assignment, to search in general terms or to extract data such as deeds, census, etc.
3. Purchase data already collected commercially.

The Genealogist-Historian will work with the other officers to develop a comprehensive research plan, and the membership will be kept informed through this newsletter. [See pg. 6 for articles on current and future research projects.]

All members of AAFA are encouraged to submit their recommendations and suggestions for areas of research in Alford history and genealogy. Members are also welcome to volunteer their own research time to help AAFA reach its research goals!

badge and suggestions for changes have been made. We expect soon that a final version will be received for approval. [Since this was written, AAFA officers did approve the emblem—an article on this subject will appear in the next issue of AAFA Action.] But please keep in mind that our family emblem cannot in any sense be considered a coat of arms or crest, although it may include some elements of previous historic Alford coats of arms.

In a broad, philosophic sense, you should renew your membership because you belong. You are an Alford or descendant and that means something. Whether you realize it or not, a big part of your self is a sense of who you are and who your parents were, their parents, and so on. You've heard the expression, "I wonder where he's coming from?" Well, this is where we're coming from—the Alford family.

Another reason to renew your membership is to be a part of the never-ending search for more facts about our ancestors—in other words, to find out just where we do come from. The search is interesting and more likely fascinating. Besides, let's face it—it's fun! I will never forget the thrill and goosebumps I got when reading the minutes (now well over 100 years old) of a country Baptist church in Wake County, NC, and finding, quite unexpectedly, the instantly recognizable handwriting of my father, who was then serving as clerk of the church while a teenager. Again I had a thrill last year on reading the will of John Ferrell, learning that in addition to his daughter Rebecca, who married Lodwick Alford, he had two other daughters who married Alfords. But who were the Alfords they married? Stay tuned, renew your membership, and help us find out!

Virginia Research Project

Gil Alford has prepared a tabulation of the Alford ancestors of the 1987 members of AAFA, which appears on the back page of this issue. Counting both lines for those who have two Alford ancestral lines, there are 49 different ancestral lines on the chart. Almost half of these terminate with James Alford, who was born about 1687, probably in New Kent County, Virginia.

At the suggestion of one of the members and because of the number of members with Alford lines terminating in Virginia, AAFA sought donations from members and others to finance research in that state by a professional genealogist. The Association received $816 in 1987 for that purpose.

A careful effort was made to select a genealogist who would produce the desired results. Approximately 25 genealogists were contacted; only about six were interested in doing the research. The qualifications of these were reviewed by a committee consisting of those who contributed $50 or more to the fund. Tabulation of the results of these reviews lead to the selection of Mrs. June W. Johnson of Fairfax, Virginia, on June 30, 1987.

Mrs. Johnson was directed to concentrate in southeastern Virginia around New Kent County for the period up to 1750, about the time that many of the Alford's moved from there to North Carolina.

During the balance of the year, AAFA paid her $200 in two $100 increments. The data provided by her research was much less than expected, and it was the recommendation of the officers of the Association that we no longer employ Mrs. Johnson.

The leadership for the Virginia research was passed to Nancy Dietrich, the AAFA Genealogist-Historian, from Gil Alford in January, 1988. June Johnson's services were terminated in February of this year. Copies of all the information received from Mrs. Johnson may be obtained from Nancy Dietrich.

It is expected that the selection of another researcher to continue the work in Virginia will be made later this year. There are about seven other lines that terminate there; however, they are not in the same part of the state and they are for a later period. This would suggest that the 1988 research work in Virginia be expanded to cover other periods and other parts of the state.

It is to be noted that there has been no compilation of data for the later period such as the one published by Gil Alford in the January 1987 issue of About Alford's. It is also unlikely he would be able to prepare such a compilation in time for work in 1988.

Proposed North Carolina Project

As discussed in the article above, almost half of the lines of AAFA members terminate with James Alford of Virginia. All of these lines subsequently go through North Carolina. Some remain in North Carolina for only one generation, but some are there to this day. Practically all of the members with these lines are still in need of data on their North Carolina Alford ancestors.

Separate from the above lines are about eight others that terminate in North Carolina. These members have never been able to make a connection to carry them further than North Carolina, most in the nineteenth century. All of these need more work on the ultimate North Carolina Alford ancestors.

There is obviously a need for organized, possibly professional research on North Carolina Alford's. A review of work being done by Gil Alford and by some of the Association members reveals that work is especially needed in wills and records of division of estates, particularly in the first half of the nineteenth century and in the areas of Wake, Franklin, and surrounding counties.

If the officers decide that the Association should proceed with research in North Carolina, a plan will be required from Genealogist-Historian Nancy Dietrich. Much has been published by Gil Alford about North Carolina Alford's, but there is no single compilation as there was for early Virginia Alford's, and Gil has other information that has not been published.

No special provision has been made for funding this work (donations), but the proposed 1988 budget includes some North Carolina research, the resources coming from the regular operating funds.

Expansion Projects

Missouri Expansion

The Alford population of Missouri ranks about 18th in the nation, with approximately 130 prospective Alford families. Research thus far shows very little, if any, relationship between the Alford families of North Carolina (or the rest of the Southeast) and those of Missouri. While there may have been a common progenitor in the early Virginia Alford families, it appears that some of the lines may have come from Alford families who landed and settled first in Maryland. Most of the migration to Missouri came from Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, and western Virginia. At least one family came from New York, and probably New England. There was probably greater Alford activity with temporary residents migrating to the West than there was in those who settled in Missouri permanently.

Although Gil Alford resides in Missouri, and that is where the Association is chartered, there has been relatively little Alford work there. Gil's total Missouri contacts are about ten, and only a third of them are considered active. While he has collected some census data for Missouri, relatively little research has been conducted in that state.

Gil is willing to split postage costs of a Missouri expansion effort with the Association if he is given equal space in the mailing. [See "Secretary's Summary," pg. 4.]

Mississippi Expansion

Mississippi appears to be one of the better states for Alford expansion in 1988. The primary reason for selecting this state is the work already done there by Gil Alford and some of his associates. The Sunday, August 2, 1987, issue of The Clarion-Ledger/Jackson Daily News, contained an article indicating that the AAFA was sponsoring the publication of About Alford in Mississippi. This project is being coordinated by Gil, with most of the research being done by Ruby Heard of Jackson, Mississippi.

Free help in tracing Alford ancestors was offered. Moderate response was received, and Gil and Ruby are now working with several interested folks in Mississippi, tracing about five or six different Alford lines.

Mississippi probably ranks sixth in the nation in Alford population after Texas, Florida, California, North Carolina, and Louisiana. Based on some rather crude statistics, it is estimated that the state has about 470 Alford families or households. It is probable that 30 to 40% of these Mississippi Alford families are Black families.

Ruby Heard's efforts have thus far produced the most extensive Alford marriage list available for any state. Joint efforts between her and Gil have produced statewide Alford census data for all years through 1860, part of 1870, the Soundex for 1880, and all for 1900 and 1910. There is more data available for helping Mississippi Alford families than for those in any other state.

As with the Missouri project, Gil is willing to split the postage costs of an expansion effort in Mississippi with the Association as long as he is given equal space to solicit input for his Mississippi book in the expansion letter.

Many of the subscribers to About Alford are not Association members, and not all Association members subscribe to About Alford. When Gil discontinues his newsletter, those subscribers who are not Association members will be faced with the decision to either join the Association or do without an Alford family newsletter. It is recommended that at that time the Association newsletter be expanded. Gil has given the Association permission to then use the newsletter name if it so desires.

When Gil prepares copies of material that the AAFA Genealogist-Historian, the Publications Editor, or other officers might use, he will provide them, with the Association bearing the basic cost of copying and mailing.

The Association has permission to use or copy any and all material prepared by Gil Alford, and at the conclusion of his work, all files, records, computer disks, books, Alford inventory, plus a computer system will become the property of the Association.
